The Pathway to RPA Designation

ABOUT RPA

The Society of Professional Accountants of Canada (RPA Canada) is a leading professional accounting body that sets standards of professional competence in the practice of accountancy. RPA designation provides you with the necessary knowledge, skills, and capabilities to reach your goals and aspirations as a professional accountant.

RPA study program is based on relevant education specifically tailored to provide you with the expertise to analyze financial information which will give you the confidence to take on a leadership role in Small to Medium-Sized Enterprises (SME).

RPA Canada advises that individuals with foreign accounting designations planning to work in Canada complete the following courses within a specified timeframe:

- Canadian Business Law
- Canadian Income Tax I & II
- Canadian Ethics for Accountants
- Data Analytics for Accountants
